

Journal and Courier.

NEW HAVEN, CONN.

THREE MONTHS, $1.50; ONE MONTH, 50 CENTS; ONE WEEK, 15 CENTS; SINGLE COPIES, 3 CENTS.

Saturday, August 10, 1895.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TO-DAY.
 Artists Clothing—Conn. Clothing Co.
 Auction—J. H. Howe Street.
 Unity Unit—Malley, Neely & Co.
 Doctor's Column—Columbia Chemical Co.
 Debutantes—G. F. Newcomb.
 Ely's Cream Balm—At Drugists.
 For Sale—Farm—John Edward Ailing.
 For Sale—House—John C. Punderford.
 For Sale—Potatoes—Schooner Harriet.
 Grand Shopping Emporium—F. M. Brown & Co.
 Lactated Food—At Drugists.
 Laces—Howe & Stetson.
 Notice—Household Specialty Co.
 Notice—New Catherine Bowles.
 On The Second Floor—Chas. Monson Co.
 Peaches—At J. H. Street.
 School Desk—This Office.
 Upright Pianos—M. Steinert Sons' Co.
 Wanted—Situation—70 Broad Street.

WEATHER RECORD.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT,
 OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF THE WEATHER BUREAU,
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 9, 1895, 8 p. m.
 Forecast for Saturday—For New England:
 Fair, warmer in the interior, southerly winds.

Local Weather Report.

FOR AUGUST 9, 1895.

	A.M.	P.M.
Barometer.....	30.07	29.98
Temperature.....	73	78
Rel. Humidity.....	54	64
Wind Direction.....	W	W
Wind Velocity.....	1	W
Weather.....	Clear	Ptly Cloudy

Mean temperature, 84.
 Max. temperature, 87.
 Min. temperature, 73.
 Precipitation, 0 inches.
 Max. velocity of wind, 15-SW.
 Accumulated deficiency of daily mean temperature since January 1, 76 degrees; or an average daily deficiency of 1.1 degrees.
 Total deficiency in precipitation since January 1, 11.15 inches.
 U. G. MYERS, Observer.

Note.—A minus sign (—) prefixed to thermometer readings indicates temperature below zero.
 A "T" in connection with rainfall indicates a trace of rainfall too small to measure.
 Snow is melted and resulting depth of water not known.

Have It Sent to You.

During the summer the JOURNAL & COURIER will be sent, postage paid, for 50 cents a month and the address changed as often as desired.

LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention.

A farm wanted—R. E. Baldwin.
 High water to-day at 1:47 p. m.
 There are many cases of scarlet fever in Ansonia.

Judge Peck of Bristol and family are at Morris Cove for a few days.

To get a good watch or jewelry that is O. K. and that will give satisfaction consult Kirby, the Jeweler.

Connecticut's fruit and vegetable crop will be a good one this year. Potatoes, corn, melons, apples, etc., will be abundant.

Patrick J. Doherty was brought to police headquarters last night by Sergeant Cowles and locked up for safe keeping. He is supposed to be insane.

Charles Lamb is the guest of E. D. Bierce and family at Cornwall Bridge, and Mrs. Horace Wells and son Alton are at A. C. Waterbury's in the same place.

At the Plainville Camp Ground yesterday afternoon Judge G. H. Cowell delivered an address on "The Farmers of Connecticut." Yesterday was Farmer's day there.

Now's the time to get trunks and traveling bags cheap from the big stock of the Burgess Fur & Hat Co.; and, ladies, now's the time to have the fur garments put in order.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chatterton of New York have arrived at Branford Point house, coming up from New York Thursday. Their daughter, Mrs. Wiswall, who has been critically ill for a few weeks past, is slightly improved.

There is nothing like the Ontario bicycle ever introduced in the city. It is the lightest, fastest, strongest wheel ever put up. Sold at big bargains by N. Sleeman, 775 Chapel street. The ladies 19½ pound bicycle is a beauty.

Sergeant W. E. McBride of police headquarters and wife will leave this morning for a ten days' visit to relations in Boston, Worcester and Springfield. They will be accompanied by a cousin of the sergeant's, Mrs. David L'Esperance of Madison avenue, New York city.

A Brutal Assault.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning Officers McGrath and Hoffman found a young girl in a dazed condition in a vacant lot near the Union railroad station. When questioned the girl said her name was Ella Melius, that she was nineteen years of age, and lived at 30 Redfield street. She said she was in the Union railroad station Thursday night when a fellow whom she supposed to be an officer told her to "get out." She complied and went out with him.

They went to the vacant lot, where the fellow assaulted her. When he had accomplished his purpose he turned the girl over to three other fellows, who in turn ravished her. The girl says she does not know the men who assaulted her, but believes she could identify them if she saw them. Her parents say that Ella is a wayward girl.

Had Pathetic Interest.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Information received at the papal legation to-day of the sudden death of Rev. James Hughes, vicar general to the diocese of Hartford had a pathetic interest to the officials there. "The deceased clergyman passed away ignorant of the fact that in consideration of his long and faithful services the pope had appointed him domestic prelate to the household of the pope with the title of monsignor. The papal brief containing the nomination was recently received at the legation with directions to hold it until the return of Bishop Tierney, who is now on his way from Europe, and have him make the announcement."

Buffalo, Aug. 9.—After considering the matter the race managers this afternoon announced that the match between Johnson and Robert J. was a fixture and would be decided Wednesday or Thursday of next week.

ARE PLENTY OF CHURCHES

THERE ARE NUMBERS OF THEM IN THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC.

The Religious Side of the People Leads One to Believe That They Are Certainly Christians—Towns and Rivers Are Named After Saints—Wonders Wrought in the Church at St. Anne de Beaupre.

Quebec, Aug. 5, 1895.

To the Editor of the JOURNAL AND COURIER: J. T. and I have now been two weeks in Canada. We have been to Montreal, from Montreal to Quebec, from Quebec to Roberval on Lake St. John, about two hundred miles north of Quebec, in the same latitude as Labrador, thence down the Saguenay river back to Quebec.

We have stuck our noses into more churches than we have ever been in before in our lives. It seems as if all lower Canada was a church. No matter how small or miserable the village—and there are a good many miserable villages in the province of Quebec—there is sure to be at least a substantial church; more often a fine church built of stone that will rank with the finest of our city churches. Usually there is a convent, too, often more than one. There is one thing the traveler will miss along the roadside in this province; that is the little district school-house. Churches, convents and shrines are everywhere, but nowhere a district school. The convent is the only school-house in the province of Quebec. There is no other school-house even in the most flourishing villages in the suburbs of Quebec, where the farmers are quite prosperous. Even in far Roberval, between which and Quebec lie two hundred miles of wilderness, there is a fine church and a convent surrounded by the low, unpeopled houses of the loggers. At the Indian settlement on Lake St. John there are three good buildings. One is a school-house, another is a church, and the best of all, is the residence of the "Pretre," another the station of the Hudson's Bay company, the third the church. At Chicoutimi, on the Saguenay, one hundred miles north of Quebec, certainly a poor town surrounded by a wilderness, there is a bishop's palace, a convent, a college and a fine stone cathedral. The last is said to have cost over one hundred thousand dollars. If devotion can make a Christian then the French Catholics are certainly Christians.

The religious side of their character is by far its most striking and obvious side. The very names of the towns and rivers show it. They are almost always saint this or saint that. A fellow traveler says that there are more saints between Montreal and Quebec than there are in heaven. Last Sunday we attended mass at the "Basilica" in Quebec—the cathedral of the French clergy and a real orator he was—a fine voice and a fine manner—full of fire and magnetism. "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest," was his text. It was the Sunday after St. Anne's day, the day of the patron saint of Canada, and in the course of his short sermon the priest gave a thrilling account of the wonders this saint had wrought in the church at St. Anne de Beaupre, a village about twenty miles out of Quebec. Here it is said that great miracles have been performed. The lame have been made to walk, and even the blind to see. Naturally we went to St. Anne de Beaupre, and although we witnessed no miracles we saw much that was wonderful. Thousands of pilgrims from all parts of Canada and the United States visit this church and pray to St. Anne for her intercession that they may be cured.

There is a column of crutches which rises to the lofty ceiling of the church which the lame have left behind as a witness that they have been healed through this intercession. There is a relic, a bone of St. Anne—mother of the blessed virgin—kept in a small glass case that looks like an open-faced watch. This, as the pilgrims kneel around the statue of St. Anne, is pressed against the ailing spot. If it does not work a cure the pilgrim often stays on week after week. More than ten thousand are said to have visited the church at last St. Anne's day. It is pitiful to see the host of poor cripples and wretched invalids of every description that come so far in the hope that they may be cured. It is comforting to think that this hope is sometimes realized. It may be a mere faith cure or mind cure, but if human testimony is worth anything, the fact that many are strangely and suddenly cured is far too well established to be doubted. Even Protestants are said to have been sometimes cured.

A word about Roberval. It is hard to get beyond the high tide line of fashionable tourists from the United States. The traveler is certainly not beyond it in Montreal or Quebec. He is simply in the tidal wave. The " Windsor" in Montreal and the "Chateau Frontenac" in Quebec, two of the finest hotels on this continent, are filled with Americans and could not live without them. But "Hotel Roberval" on Lake St. John, was, as we believed, visited only by the hunter and the fisherman. It was "the lodge in some vast wilderness" where a man could wear old clothes. Alas, not so! It is a fine, fashionable, three-to-five-dollar-a-day hotel with all the modern inconveniences, including the fashionable woman. We found there a French countess, a son of an English lord and a granddaughter of the Duke of Wellington. Alas, poor Yorrick! What had we traveled eight hundred miles to see.

Lake St. John is about twenty-five miles by thirty. On the eastern side, about twenty-five miles from the hotel, there is really good fishing. A French member of the Dominion Parliament caught there twenty "Ouananiche" the morning we visited the fishing grounds, weighing in all about forty pounds. This fish is a species of salmon, very gamey and very delicious. They are caught either by trolling or fly-fishing. You hire a boat and two guides for four dollars, pay a dollar to visit the grounds, one dollar for your dinner—about seven dollars for the entire week—fish and be happy.

The Indian reservation on Lake St. John is really interesting. The Indians are not miserable half-breeds, but full-blooded Montagnais, an old Canadian tribe. They have a language of their own, but most of them speak French—probably bad French—but all French to us is bad. It is not spoken here, even in the pulpit with that refined accent which is taught in our American boarding schools. The reservation is about four miles square, composed of good farming land, but the Indians, though they are Christians, will not work the farms. They rent them out to French Canadians on shares.

In September these Indians, men, women and children, one and all, migrate into the "bush," where they spend the winter in hunting and trapping. It takes them often a month to reach their winter home in the far northern wilderness. There the winter is something terrible, the snow six feet deep and the temperature sometimes fifty degrees below zero, but there are no white men there and there is plenty of game. It is a region where the almost fabled moose is a reality, where the hunted and persecuted beaver still builds his wonderful dam, where the caribou may be counted by thousands, where the mink, the otter, the marten and the lynx still make trapping a profitable pursuit. A smart Indian will often return in May with six or seven hundred dollars' worth of skins, which he sells at the agency of the Hudson's Bay Co. From what he realizes the agent first deducts the two or three hundred dollars' worth of flour and other provisions which the company have advanced. For these Indians have good credit with that ancient company, which, as of old, makes a profit on what it buys as well as on what it sells, and still grows rich, while the Indian is poor as he always is. Is the day coming when this last frozen hunting ground of the Indian will disappear? So the millions of logs which float down the Canadian rivers seem to say.

More Money.

Is wasted on melons than it would take to build a yacht. Little Gems are delicious and all warranted. Judson sells them at 867 Chapel street.

A HAT-BOX

Is indispensable to the gentleman, — and the traveler.

The purchase of a hat-box at this season, when the leather market is quiet, is a first-class investment, — and worthy of serious consideration.

We guarantee absolutely every article that bears our name.

BROOKS & CO.,
 Chapel and State streets.

Special Attention Paid

To the

Interior Decoration

Of Homes.

"THE SHOP,"

CHARLES P. THOMPSON,

60 Orange Street.

Late of firm Platt &amp; Thompson.

PFAFF &amp; SON.

MUSHROOMS,

HOT HOUSE

TOMATOES,

HOT HOUSE

CUCUMBERS.

CAPONS, CAPONS.

Muscovy DUCKS Muscovy

7 and 9 Church st. 152 Portsea st.

Spring Chickens

(BROILERS),

Spring Ducklings, Squabs,

Spring Lamb,

Native Peas and String Beans,
 Cucumbers and Squash.

JACOB F. SHEIFFELE,

409 STATE STREET.

WHEN

HOME AGAIN

FROM A

FOREIGN SHORE,

The seaside or the mountains,
 You'll find

SILVERTHAU'S,

AT 780 CHAPEL STREET.

With a very large stock of Precious Stones, which are being sold far below all competitors.
 Call there and see for yourself.

241 State Street 243

NEW HAVEN, CT.

MALLEY-NEELY &amp; CO.

New Haven, Saturday, Aug. 10, 1895.

The weather to-day—Likely to be fair.

TELEPHONE No. 121.

Heat Will Rise

to the boiling point many a time yet before the summer simmers away. That fact together with wilted prices makes our FAN FESTIVAL the very centre of attraction.

Japanese and Vienna Fans. Plain and fancy colors, and black. Sticks embossed, braided or perfectly plain. Folding Fans, Extension Fans, Convex Fans.

Everything on Bargain Table

No. 2... 10c. each.

Everything on Bargain Table

No. 1... 15c. each.

Molasses Kisses

made of rich and pure materials with Saratoga Natural Spring Water. 300 lbs. of them on sale at the Candy Counter, at 10c. a ½ pound package. 10 cents is the Saturday price.

At the Soda Fountain, "Trilby Cob" at 5c. a glass.

Millinery

Ladies' Trimmed Hats $1.00. They began the season at $3.00.

Golf Caps for men and boys. Price 50c. each. Millinery Parlors.

Going to Camp?

Pack your Knapsack with

Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Bows or String Ties. White Gloves. Smoked Eye Glasses. Socks. Duck

Pants. Suitable Underwear in merino or wool. Outing Shirts. Handkerchiefs. Sweaters. Drinking Cups. Shakers, and Glasses of every description.

The Prevailing Veiling

is Chiffon in plain or dotted white or black. "Maggie" style is in the lead; white dots on white chiffon; black dots on black chiffon; black dots on white chiffon and—a roomy looking glass to show how the Veils look.

Veilings, Main Entrance, Right.

Suits That Suit

the boys and their mothers. Cool on the person and comfortable on the purse. Poor prices on good clothes are always popular... 49 cents a suit instead of early, 65 and 69 cents a suit.

Boys' Wash Suits, striped in light and dark blues, or brown and black. Sailor collars on every one of them. Suits that boys beg for.

No summer clothes carried over on our shelves.

Boys' Clothing Department.

New Books

"Autobiography of a Boy," by G. S. Street, cloth, 95 cts.
 "The Honor of the Flag," by W. Clark Russell, cloth, 39 cts.
 "God and the Ant," by Conison Kernahan, paper, 21 cts.
 "Sentimental Studies and a Set of Village Tales," by Hubert Crackanthorpe, cloth, 79 cts.
 "An Island Princess," by Theo Gift, cloth, 79 cts; paper 36 cts.

Plenty of the standard, popular 50 cent Novels at 36c. each, and other choice summer literature at cool refreshing prices.

Sample "Burnham's" Beef, Wine and Iron. No tax for a taste.

Basement.

MALLEY-NEELY &amp; CO.

241 State Street 243

NEW HAVEN, CT.

Spencer Matthews &amp; Co.

OILS, PAINTS, CHEMICALS.

241 State Street 243

NEW HAVEN, CT.

BLUE SERGE SUITS.

Most clothiers have Blue Serge Suits, some good, some bad. The question for you to consider is where you can get the BEST. We believe that WE have them, and the price is $15. The goods are purely American, made by the Oswego Mills, weigh 14 ounces to the yard, and they are absolutely fast color. Shall be pleased to show them to you.

C. E. LONGLEY &amp; CO.,

101, 103 and 105 Church Street,

NEW HAVEN, CONN.

Struck By a Cyclone!

The Last Call Sale of last week made the Fred. L. Averill stock look as if it had been struck by a cyclone. But there are odds and ends left in every department that are great bargains. Prices no object, and goods MUST GO!

A glance in our window will give you a little idea of the low prices at this Last Call Sale.

All goods marked in plain red figures.

THE Home Furnishing COMPANY,

755 to 763 Chapel Street.

From Now Until Aug. 15th

On all Plated Ware and Cutlery

A Discount of 20 Per Cent.

Will be given for CASH.

ROBINSON & CO., 90 Church street.

Howe &amp; Stetson

767-771 CHAPEL ST.

Laces.

We're supplying hundreds of women with their lace wants, and yet we're willing to supply as many more. Prices are irresistible.

Black Silk Laces.

19c. up.

Ecru Cotton Laces.

9c. up.

White Silk Laces.

8c. up.

Narrow Val. Laces.

White and butter colors,
 25c. doz. yds. up.

Real Venetian

Point Laces.

5c. a point.

Embroideries.

A big drive at 10c. the yd. Very large line of extra fine Embroideries.

Ties.

50c. Satin Ties, Bows and Tecks. 25c. each.

Parasol Covers.

39c. up.

Colored Flouncings.

Were $1.25 and $1.50,
 49c. the yard.

HOWE &amp; STETSON

MILLS,

382 State Street,

SELLS

Potatoes 15c Peck.

Best Flour 60c Bag.

Pearl Tapioca 5c Pound.

Potted Ham

Potted Tongue 5c.

SUMMER PRICES.

For the next 30 days

Low Prices will prevail

at

Beer's Photo Parlor,

760 Chapel Street.

All Photos at One-half the prices charged elsewhere, either by daylight or our Patent Electric Light up to 9 o'clock every evening. Gallery established 40 years.

R. G. RUSSELL,

Architect,

852 Chapel Street.

FOR SALE, MEN'S $5.00 SHOES

$3.00.

C. H. AYERS,

814 Chapel street.